PANTHER TALES

SCHOOLS ARE NOT MADE

Schools are not made
Of bricks alone,
But of living things
With flesh and bone.

Beings who live
Together as one,
Working at lessons -
Having fun.

Schools are not made
Of plaster and wood,
But of helping friends
Who've understood

The pack of problems
You've had to bear,
And made your life
More free from care.

Schools are not made
Of steel and glass,
But of memories
From every class.

A word in a hall,
A basketball game,
Streamers and music -
Hearts aflame.

Yes, schools are made
Of subtle stuff,
Of ups and downs,
Of smooth and rough.

And yet you'll say,
In later strife:
"The happiest days
In all my life!"

All of the photography in this 1939 edition of "Fenther Tales", with the exception of the senior pictures, was done by student photographers. Our two staff photographers are Rayburn Wright and Bob Young. They have been assisted by Victor Abbott, Sil Fortino, and Preston Delavan. These students have been working for about a year collecting candid shots and both teachers and students are in good physical condition as a result of dodging these demons of the candid camera. Ray and Bob have been in charge and have done their own dark room work.

This year, under the able leadership of President Wallace Moore, the Student Council has made definite progress as the governing body of Alma High School. They have broken down the barrier of closed dances and sanctioned parties admitting outsiders; sponsored dances after basketball games; taken a social survey of all the students and numerous other services pertaining to the better welfare of Alma High School. The officers are: President, Wallace Moore; Vice-president, Silvio Fortino; Secretary, Marjorie Howell; Treasurer, Charles Efaw.

In 1928, Mr. Marshal Lane organized an agricultural club which, after receiving its charter on December 31, 1939, became the Alma Chapter of the National Future Farmers of America. Any rural boy who wishes to specialize in agriculture and is enrolled in one of the agricultural classes is eligible to join.

During the past year the club, under the able supervision of Mr. Lester Allen, has made two trips to Lansing; one during the Junior Farmer week and the other during Farmer's week. Other activities include a trip to the Ionia Free Fair to judge livestock and grains, the annual corn show, which is sponsored in January and the Father and Son Banquet in October.

The Hi-Y was organized in Alma at the start of the 1937-38 school year. This Alma organization is composed of boys sponsored by Mr. Rensch and is affiliated with the Y. M. C. A. They are a very active group. They aim to improve the ethical standards of the girls and boys in school, to strive for sportsmanship and cooperation. They have sponsored movies and lectures carrying out this aim as well as sheer entertainment programs. The problem of school cliques, racial attitudes, and many others are discussed at their meetings. They left a scoreboard to the school during their first year as a club. Dr. Miller consulted with the boys on the problems of sex and Mr. Babcock discussed many of today's problems with the group. These have been the outstanding lectures this year. They have done numerous little things to improve out Alma High.

Third Row: Helen Creeger, Mary Jane Slyfield, Rose Sison, Jeanne Gillette, June Parker, Margaret Thomas, Ethel Wilson, Tencel Schmitt, Betty Thompson, Marilyn Dewey, Gertrude Fee, Ann Stickney, Elizabeth Ramsey, Ruth Abbott, Dolores DeTar.

Under the leadership of Miss Barnes, the Alma High Girl Reserves were organized late last fall. This organization although yet in its infancy is being led to "bigger and better" things by its capable president Jeanne Copenhafer. In years to come the Girl Reserves are expected to become a valuable addition to the High School life of many Alma girls.

BAND

Second Row: C. F. Vandemark, Jeanne Hale, Donald Walker, Evelyn Moody, Homer Fulton, Robert Milham, Victor Abbot, Duane Hayes, William Hopkins, Uldine Smith, Mr. Yoder, director.

First Row: Isabel Purdy, Donald Converse, Donald Bigler, Kenneth Shepherd, Ruth White, James Hercik, Richard Fishbeck, Francis Hansen, Xanta Angelus.

Kneeling: Jack Redman, Earl Wickman.

The Alma High band is an active participant in our local football games. During the past school year they have played for many extra curricular activities such as the Michigan Beet Growers Convention, the dedication of the new Post Office, a program sponsoring the United States Marine Band, and the Armistice Day parade. In May, the band held its annual festival, later in the month it took active part in the Central Michigan Band Festival. The director is Mr. R. A. Yoder, and the drum major, C. F. Vandemark.

PEP BAND

First Row: Robert Milham, Richard Fishbeck, Ul-dine Smith, Xanta Angelus, Ruth White, James Heroik, Frances Hansen.

The Pep Band has added life and zest to many of our pep meetings, both during the football and basketball season. "Jim" Hercik supplies the necessary leadership for this group. The Band is a valuable part of our school life, as it provides added encouragement for our teams.

The Home Economics Club of Alma High School has been organized this year for the purpose of bringing girls together in experiences related to the school, home, and community. The girls have tried to earn money to send delegates to the spring high school conference at Lansing. They have joined the American Home Economics Association, and as a member have received many interesting helps.

The club meets regularly once a month on Thursday evening, with an added record of at least one special evening meeting each month so far. Their main social project for the year was the sponsoring of an old time barn dance. The year closed with the annual picnic and election of officers.

1ST SEMESTER ALMA-NAC STAFF

Second Row: Mr. Mayville, Claudia Whitford, Virginia Bittel, Loren Burt.

First Row: Silena Luchini, Marjorie Howell, Eloise Allen.

2ND SEMESTER ALMA-NAC STAFF

Second Row: Mr. Mayville, Betty Bratt, Arbutus Knapp, Gwendolyn Youry.

First Row: Betty Redman, Dorothy Bedford, Virginia Bittel.

The Alma-Nac is a well-organized publication edited by a talented staff under the direction of Mr. Mayville.

The staff is a member of the National Scholastic Press Association and each journalist is also affiliated with the Quill and Scroll. The latter association is an international honorary society for High School journalists.

The Alma-Nac is a progressive news-disseminating agency, active not only in reporting current news items and a modern editorial policy, but also in sponsoring such school activities as the Carnival and the Newsies' Night Club. The Alma-Nac has faithfully followed successful precedents established by former staffs, as well as in creating an advertising agency for all school parties, unusual assemblies, and programs for football and basketball games.

HONOR SOCIETY

Second Row: Vera Baney, Phyllis Redemacher, Jean Knapp, Alice Buchler, Doris Martin, Jeanne Copenhaver, Helen Trieter, Margaret Davis, Teasel Shultz, Barbara Coffin, Bette Redman.

First Row: Ruth Walters, Jane Ditto, Gertrude Fea, Bernice Zimmerman, Mr. R. G. Swigart, advisor, Harriet Porter, Jane Roberts, Louise Swanson, Virginia Battel, Eloise Allen.

This spring the Alma High School Chapter of the National High School Honor Society celebrated its first birthday. Bob Milham is acting chairman for this aspiring young group, who are all under the able supervision of Mr. Swigart. This group should be looked up to as it is a real accomplishment not only to get into the society, but to stay in it.

MARDI GRAS

Standing: Jack Albright, Marilyn Dewey, Melbourne Medler, Jeanne Gillette, Bob Bosch, Dorothy Bedford, Preston Delaven, Eloise Allen, Mary Jane Slyfield, Rayburn Wright. King, Silvio Fortino; Queen, Jeanne Copenhafer.

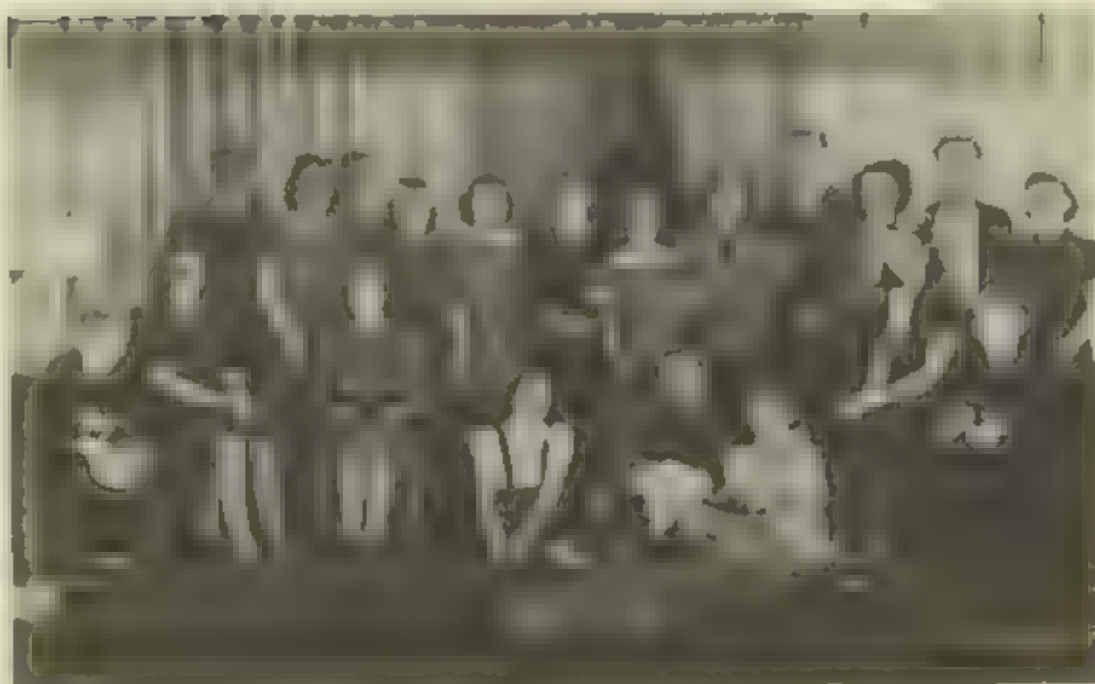

For over a decade the traditional Mardi Gras has been thrilling Alma High students with its French atmosphere and scenes suggestive of the gala occasion in New Orleans. This year the French class sponsored the festive affair on February 25.

The King and Queen dominated the scene and chose the winners for the outstanding costumes of the evening. Helen Creeger, picturesquely attired in dress of days gone by took the prize for the prettiest. In the unique garb of a deep sea diver Morris Lockwood secured the prize for the most original. The combined forces of Eugene Greenwood and Orville Lippert under the guise of Ferdinand the Bull took the laurels for the funniest attire.

Jerry Corbett's syncopating music filled the air while the costumed couples danced.

SENIOR PLAY

Standing: Robert Phillips, Marjorie Howell, Norman Hammond, Jeanne Gillette, Sarah Desmond, Melbourne Medler, Eleanor Hixson, Dorothy Bedford, Morris Lockwood, Bette Redman, Vincent Bridenbaker, Roline Fetzner.

Sitting: Robert Young, Doratha DuBois, Helen Creeger, Maribel Buor, Miss Margaret Barnes, Erma Flansburg, Phyllis Rademacher, Rayburn Wright.

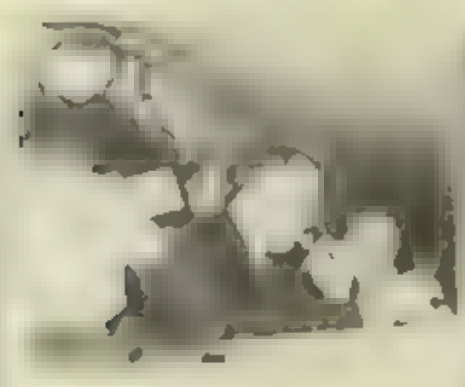

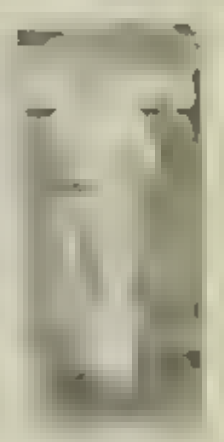

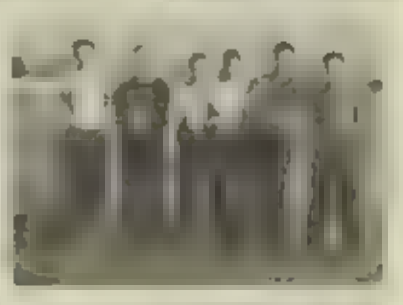

On November 16, the curtain rose on an aspiring young group of actors and actresses. The occasion was the first showing of "China Boy", the annual Senior Play.

The play was centered around Mark, the son of a missionary in China. He throws a wrench into the home life of the Parker family when he arrives unexpectedly for an extended visit. Mark is a moral, upright boy who at once wins the approval of the elder members of the Parker family, but the younger set ban him as inhuman. Of course in the end, Mark, being the hero, makes friends with his cousins and their crowd.

Basketball: Won 81 out of 90 Conference games.

Track: Won 9 conference and 8 Regional titles in nine years.

Out of the three sports during a nine year period he has maintained an .800% average.

FOOTBALL TEAM

Back Row: Gayle Hoad, Glen Mutchler, William Lemon, Coach Lear, Russel Munn, Preston Delavan, Bryant Betts, Donald Nelson, Philip Collins, Karold Allen, Norman Mills.

Alma High's football team looked to be the best in many years after playing Saginaw Arthur Hill. Losing in last seconds of play by a 13-7 score, the Panthers were in best of spirit and form. The team went on with high hopes and conquered Greenville 6 to 0. The next week playing a night game with Mt. Pleasant gave Alma another win 7 to 0. after some of the best goal line stands produced during the year by the Panthers. Fremont was their next victim, winning 26 to 7. Here however, their victories stopped and they lost their last three games to East Lansing, Big Rapids, and Midland.

The first team consisted of Fortino, Efaw, ends; Fuller, Bronson, Bosch, Mills, tackles: Beard, Almy, Breidinger, Robinson, Doepker, guards; Stearns, Gay, Centers; Backs were McNeill, Corgan, Schneider, Moore Wiltshire, and Lobdell.

BASKETBALL TEAM

Standing: Paul Corgan, Jack Howe, Bob Young, George Young, Manley Hahn, Bud Stearns, Bob Phillips, Donald Nelson, Ceylon Fulton, Jack Rademacher, Bud Wiltshire, Wallace Moore.

Seated: Donald Fuller, Wilbur Grosskopf, Carl Vickman, Charles Egan, Joe Leuer, Silvio Fortino, Leon McNeill, Carl Schultz.

Alma's 1938-39 team, coached by "Bill" Lear, had another very successful season. The team composed of: Howe, Fortino, Moore, Wiltshire, Corgan, McNeill, and Schultz won 15 games while losing but 2. One, to a Class "A" Owosso team, the other to the old rival, Mt. Pleasant in the Regional Finals. The team won the Six-Tree Conference Title and District Championship.

First Row: Manley Hahn, Leon McNeill, Francis Stearns, Loren Wiltshire, Paul Corran, Phil Hancock, Wilbur Groskoff, Bill Hopkins, Leland Colloff, Donald Breidinger.

Composed mostly of sophomores, the Panther track team is the smallest since Coach Lear has been here. Its members are outstanding however. Having met only Midland so far this season, the Panthers set the Lions back by a 71 to 33 score. Coach Lear has lost only one regional track meet in the ten years he has been here.

BASEBALL

First Row: Loren Wiltshire, Vincent Bridenbaker, Clare Cook, Leland Dolloff, Stanton Clark, Carl Schultz, George Young, Edwin Bradford.

Max Davis, the new Panther baseball coach, was the only new addition to the coaching staff. The Panthers looked forward to a good season. In order to secure experience the team practiced with the Alma College team and also had many practice games with teams near Alma.

TENNIS

Don Converse, Bob Howe, Jack Rademacher, Bob Anthony, Tom Stein, Jack Rowell.

The Alma High tennis team as usual was coached by Parm Mayer. Rumors have it that this year's team should be a dangerous one for its rivals and that in the year's state tournament play Alma should place high. This is only the third year of tennis in Alma High School.

GOLF

First Row: Bob Young, Jack Howe, Jim Hercik, Wilbur Grosskopf.

This year the Panther golf team will have to play outstanding golf in order to keep up the excellent record of the past two years. Only four matches have been lost and two championships have come into our school. The team of last year finished third in the state meet, only six strokes out of second place.

Bob Phillips and Leon McNeill, number one and two men respectively, have played on a winning team during their golf career in high school.

The team thus far has won from Big Rapids and lost to East Lansing in medal play.
